

“Education Innovator” Award

The “Education Innovator” award is to recognize an NAPMW member for her or his ability to embrace and drive innovation in education. The ability to come up with innovative ideas, the courage to take risks when everyone around you says, “That can’t be done,” the willingness to try something new, to think outside the box and to lead when others are following are the kind of entrepreneurial skills that employers look for. These are also the skills our Local Associations need to survive and thrive in the ever-changing mortgage industry.

Each Local Association Board is invited to nominate one of its members for the “NAPMW” Education Innovator Award”. At-large nominations from National Board members, Region Board Members, or National Committee Chairs/Coordinators are also encouraged.

Criteria:

- Nominee must be a NAPMW member in good standing.
- Nominee must have been a driver for bringing education into the mortgage industry in a new, innovative way that has not been tried before by the nominee’s Local Association and/or Region.
- Years of service and years of membership in NAPMW are not factors in choosing the recipient of this award. In fact, recruiting members from a wide range of possible membership categories parallel to mortgage lending is a great way to bring new ideas into a Local. Your candidate for this award may just be that very person who recently joined your Local Association.
