PARTNERS IN PROGRESS GAINS MOMENTUM

EDMONDS, Wash. – Nov. 17, 2005 – The National Association of Professional Mortgage Women (NAPMW) announced today the growing success of its Partners in Progress program, a nationwide endeavor which enables interested companies the opportunity to support professionals in the mortgage lending industry through high quality and comprehensive education and leadership development.

Since its inception in 2004, Partners in Progress has seen the addition of many partners including LandAmerica, First American Title/CREDCO, Genworth Financial, Triad Guaranty Insurance Corporation, and Stewart Mortgage Information and has had a sizable impact on NAPMW and its constituents. Partners in Progress was created to increase awareness amongst companies and offer them a way to directly impact the thousands of mortgage industry professionals that make up NAPMW. The program has resulted in lasting partnerships with companies who share NAPMW's belief in elevating the educational standards in the industry.

"NAPMW is continually developing new ways to bring education to individuals in the industry," said National President Susan Semba. "Partners in Progress is an excellent opportunity for companies to join forces with NAPMW in that effort."

Partners select their level of involvement by choosing from packages that range from $2,750 to $30,000. Each package provides the Partner with various avenues of exposure for their products and services to numerous professionals who use those services every day. Partners are promoted to members through exclusive recognition in conjunction with events and activities, on the NAPMW website, word of mouth among members, and much more.

The National Association of Professional Mortgage Women is comprised of 57 Local Associations across the country. NAPMW serves all mortgage professionals who want to excel and employers who want excellence. NAPMW is the sole accrediting body for the Graduate of Mortgage Lending (GML) and Master of Mortgage Lending (MML) designations that certify a professional's knowledge and capabilities.
